willing to accept — one that returned Sharm e-Sheikh to returned Sharm e-Shaikh to Egypt for instance, or sought to divide Jerusalem again, al-though a large part of Sinai might go back to Egypt after a peace treaty. She also con-firmed what Mr. Gakii recently said about the Gaza Strip having become a permanent part of Is-rael, as well as the fact, often stated, that the Golan Heights. rated, that the Golan Heights would not be returned to the Syrians who used them, after all, solely for the purpose of shooting down at Israel settle-ments in the lake valley below. There was not really anything new in this formula, which cor-responds accurately to what was known as the "oral law" prior to the last elections in 1969: oral only because by no means all members of the party were then willing to accept it, still less to hear it enunciated in public, when it was little more than a formula presented by Defence Minister Dayan. Thus there was nothing re-volutionary in what Mrs. Meir said. It is what she did not say that has caused some flutterings. She made no reference at all to the future of the West Bank, which has been interpreted by some critics as meaning that Israel has no specific claims

What it really means, presum-ably, is that the political or-ganization of the West-Bank in any future peace talks is a matter for negotiations, and that her reference to secure borders that will not again tempt Arab countries into attacks would in-clude a continued Israel presence on the Jordan, of an embassy. But, coming after the closure of an embassy, such an announcement is considered a formality.)

The Ugandan Foreign Ministry statement said that in one case aione Israelis leaving Uganda had taken with them 10 Landrovers, 22 Caterpillar vehicles, 15 other vehicles and other equipment worth hundreds of thousands sterling. The equipment had been taken from Arua, in northwest Uganda, and Tororo, in the east of the country, "under the pretence that they were Israel property," the Ministry said. "The Government will in due course make claims for its property that was wrongfully removed by the Israelis," it said. The Ministry did not say how the equipment had been taken out of the country, but stated: "This action on the part of the Israelis shows that they are always out for quick gains." It also said Uganda is "not worried" by Israel's decision to publish a detailed report on its activities here as soon as the last Israeli has left the country, because it is "well known" what the Israelis had done. Uganda claims the Israelis engaged in subversion against President Idi Amin's Government. (Reuter, AP)

The Fatah also continued its campaign against King Hussein's controversial plan calling for a Jordanian-Palestinian federation linking Jordan with the Israeladministered West Bank. That plan, already rejected by several Arab states, yesterday received another serious setback when it was criticized by 13 prominent Palestinian figures living in Jorgan.

In a message to the P.L.O. conference, the Palestimians charged that the Hussein plan was a "source of dissension" among the Arabs. They criticized the scheme for confining its scale to the West Bank, adding that Araba were determined to "liberate not only the West Bank, but all of Palestine, from the

Ja'abari raps Arab pressure

Jerusalem Post Arab Affairs Reporter Hebron Mayor Sheikh Mohammed Ali Ja'abari, yesterday accused the 18-nation Arab League in Cairo of exerting pressure on Jordan's King Hussein to lead him to sign a separate settlement with Israel, The Arab states want Hussein to be their scapegoat, Sheikh Ja'abari said in an interview with the Jerusalem Arabic daily "Al Anba."

The Sheikh sharply criticized Egyptian President Anwar Sadat for severing relations with Jordan, adding that the Sadat move was "unwise." Obviously hinting at Sadat's failure to manoeuvre himself in a position of leadership, Ja'abari said that the Arab nation was now in need of a leader, "more so than ever before.'

The Hebron Mayor criticized the Arab governments for the uproar over Hussein's federation scheme linking Jordan with the West Bank. He asked if the Arab governments were against Hussein's call to restore the West Bank and the Gaza Strip to the Arabs. The Sheikh also asked, "Do they want the West Bank, the Holy Places and the Gaza Strip to remain in Israeli hands?

Arabs entering its territories after leaving from Israel ports. The latest move was viewed as "Since the Arabs do not want to pressure on West Bankers, on two liberate these territories, I would counts - their support of elections advise King Hussein to give up in Judea and Samaria and their his scheme until the Arab states failure to voice active objection to agree on a formula," Sheikh Ja'abari King Hussein's federation plan. concluded.

Washington-Moscow deal now seen more difficult

Jerusalem Post Diplomatic Correspondent ment, and also because the Middle President Sadat's espousal of the East is unlikely to be one of the main topics to be discussed in Mosextreme Palestinian terrorist cause, as expressed in his recent speech to the Palestine Liberation Orgacow.

was no success up to now, that does not mean that there might not in due course have been prograss.

But it can be angued that Hussein's virtual abdication from responsibility on the West Bank in his federal proposal has rendered further talks with him senseless at the present junction. He cannot negotiate on behalf of an area and population that he no longer even claims to wish to control, and which in any case has long since ceased to look to him for guidance. If he made any agreement, it could be valid only for the area which he rules. He has, in fact, left a political vacuum in Samaria and Judea, which is only very partially filled by the local council administrations that are in the process of being re-elected. There is no real political structure there at all at present, and it is at least doubtful whether the areas centring around Hebron and Nablus respectively could very easily agree on any such structure in the future, or whether Ramaliah and Bethlehem would fit into either half.

Nature abhors a political vacuum as much as any other kind, and no simple solutions have been put forward yet on how this vacuum, might best be filled. The only thing that is clearly impossible is a total Is-rael withdrawal, which would tend to draw terrorist groups into the area as into Lebanon's undefended "Fatahland." It is the oldest land in the world, but what, it now needs is a grass-roots growth of a completely new political, though not na-tional, form.

Bolivian F.M. Lebanese hold arrives today suspects in Beirut blasts

BEIRUT. - Prime Minister Saeb Salam announced that security forces yesterday arrested some men suspected of participating in the wave of bomb attacks which shook Beirut all through Saturday night. Mr. Salam told reporters a Lebanese man named Mahmoud Doha visited him at his home yesterday morning and surrendered, saying he was one of those who planted the bombs. He confessed he was working with another man, also named Doha, who was killed when one of the bombs exploded in his hands on Saturday night.

Mr. Salam said security forces then searched the dead man's house and found some documents outlining his plans. He was "identified" as the organizer of the operation, but others were working with him. Mr. Salam added.

When asked if he thought people from outside Lebanon were involved in the bombings, Mr. Salam said, "Maybe."

The Internal Security Council met yesterday to discuss the security situation in the country in the wake of the bomb attacks,

One man was killed and three others were slightly injured in the four explosions in two areas of the Capital. 'A car was wrecked in the fifth explosion. All the explosions caused heavy material damage.

Active bid in U.S. for Jewish converts

LOS ANGELES (INA). - Some sections of the Christian community have become boldly active in trying to gain Jewish converts, re-ported the "Los Angeles Times" on Saturday, adding that this drive comes partly as a result of the Jesus movement, which is itself a widespread revival of interest in basic Christianity among the youth and others.

A number of churches are sponsoring programmes to attract Jews in their areas, and full page advertisements have been run in large papers declaring "so many Jews are wearing 'that smile' nowadays." That smile is the smile, the advertisement says, that indicates that "the love of Jesus Christ has come into their lives."

Jews who become converts refer to themselves as "completed Jews," "fulfilled Jews," or "Hebrew Chris-tians." Local rabbis have disagreed. The minute one becomes a Christian he loses his identity in the peoplehood concept of Judaism," said one.

Propaganda films Although controversy followed the proposed showing on television last ear of a film on a fellowship of Christian Jews, a similar film, "Christ is Passover," will soon be shown in Southern California, Last year most of the stations cancelled the first film at the last moment. The films argue that Christianity is the logical extension of Judaism. To this argument, one Rabbi said, "We say that to the Jews, Judaism is the logical fulfilment of Juda-

The "Los Angeles Times" contrasted this new aggressiveness with the mood of the past few years, during which there was a general tendency to forgo conversion efforts, an acceptance of Judaism and an emphasis on "raising evangelical social consciousness on such is-sues as race and poverty." It noted that the Vatican and the World Council of Churches had led an "attempt to erase traces of anti-Semitism," but that in the late 'sixties, there were changes of attitude along with the 'less-than-hoped-for moral support' during and after the Six Day War.

The 53-year-old author, officially disgraced in the Soviet Union, had personally organized the apartment award ceremony for April 19. He cancelled it after Soviet officials refused a visa to Mr. Gierow, permanent secretary of the Swedish Academy, who was to present the award.

A humiliation

Solzhenitsyn said he and the 40 invited Russian guests were "too busy" to arrange the ceremony again. "After the visa refusal to Mr. Gierow," he said, "I should consider it a humiliation both to him and to me to accept the Nobel insignia from anybody else's hands except those of the permanent se-cretary of the Swedish Academy. According to the rules of the Academy, the Nobel Prize insignia can be held by it for an unlimited time. If my life is not long enough, then I bequeath the insignia to my son." The declaration called the "de-layed concession" by the Swedish

RAIL TRANSPORT

IS SAFEST

To the Editor of The Jerusulem Post Sir, -- With reference to your report of March 22, "Knesset body stays closure of rail line to North," I think it significant that the Minister of Transport has decided to close the Haifa-Nahariya rallway line to passenger traffic, instead of having it rebuilt. The Tel Aviv-Haifa line had a similar problem. but with the continous welding of the tracks now completed, service is improving; speed and train frequency could however be higher still, but in order to achieve this, the anti-railway pressure groups would probably have to be depressurized first. The IL3m, which the Ministry of Transport claims not to have at The Marrano Lopez was much in present can literally be found on the news in the 1590s and Shakesthe streets. Night and day, cars are parked unlawfully. Bus passengers openly break the law thousands of imes every hour by smoking in public vehicles and are joined by many bus drivers on duty, while this country is being carved up by a steadily increasing network of highways. Instead of paying heavy fines for their lawlessness, the perpetrators are subjected to an expensive The Israel railways do not need all these things because their most important rule is "safety first" and their safety record since the estab-lishment of the State is unbeaten by any other means of land-based transport. The modernization of the North must not be made dependent solely on dangerous road traffic. H. Y. KOHUT

VOLTE-FACE IN

UGANDA To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir. - The unfortunate course our diplomatic relations with Ugan-da have taken should perhaps make our foreign policy-makers think twice. Isn't it high time for a re-orientation of our technical and military aid to the third world? Israel's limited resources make it the more necessary for a sounder basis in deciding what countries deserve aid. And notions like democratic regime and stability should be at the base of these decisions. We just can't afford to be a constant flying leaf subjected to the caprices of the ever-changing winds. SABAH SALMAN Tel Aviv, March 23.

POSTAL EFFICIENCY

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir, - Today, March 31, I received three letters. Two were mailed on March 20 and the other on March 22. The one of March 22 was mailed in Chicago - one fourth of the way around the world from Jerusalem. Of the two mailed on March 20, one was mailed in Honolulu, one half a world away, the other was mailed from walking distance of my home in Jerusalem, and from the Ministry of Health! And I used my zip code ... I think Till send my letters for Jerusalem to Chicago for remailing - they'd arrive quicker.

Senator Henry Jackson has been at the forefront of almost every measure in the U.S. Congress to aid Israel, while President Nixon strolled arm in arm in his rose garden with King Hussein.

THE ALLON PLAN

To the Editor of The Jerusalem Post Sir, - In my opinion, the advantage of the Allon plan lies in the fact that it solves both the surategic and the demographic problem. With the Jordan River as the boundary, and our settlements in the area, the strategic problem will be more or less solved. On the other hand, we do not seek to add one million additional Arabs to Israel, ceither do they want to be Israelis. In these circumstances a kind of autonomous Palestine Arab entity, linked or not in the future to the Kingdom of Jordan, seems to be a logical demographic solution. In my opinion, King Hussein made an important step in this direction by granting autonomy to the West Bank in principle. All other problems can be settled if and when King Hussein is ready to negotiate peace with us. A. BASSIN

Simon Sargon shows his parti-ular gift for the latter faculty in very phrase he plays. He phrases like a good singer, he breathes in his music like a singer would, his has a singing touch which is always melodiously conditioned. His temperament and personality are uniquely qualified for developing other musicians' musical potentials and he does a very good job in this field.

However, as a rule one goes to concert to hear a musician give his individual reading of music, Sargon's recital was rather objective and lacked personal interpretation. He seemed to be handicapped by an inner nervousness (which befalls artists accustomed to appearing in ensembles and who suddenly find themselves on their own on the stage). The result was that Bach and Mozart missed a steady pulse and in the Bartok the rhythm was underplayed so that the dances seemed to miss their proper foundation. On the other hand the singing quality of his playing provided a most suitable identification for the Schubert. His own Fantasy strikes me as a piece written for his com-position class at school and the composer's intentions did not unveil themselves to me.

Congestion hits Zim Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA. - The continuing congestion in Haifa and Ashdod harbours is causing serious losses to Zim. The congestion surcharge covers "only 50 per cent of our direct losses," the Zim general manager, Mr. Moshe Kashti, told The Jerusalem Post.

He added that during Feb-ruary, Zim lost over IL50,000 a day on ships laid up in the two ports. Compared to January, profits dropped by 50 per cent.

The figures for March are not yet in.

The congestion surcharges, collected by all the shipping conferences, amount to IL250,000 a day. They are now in their fourth month. They have already cost the economy nearly IL25m., paid to the shippers, apart from indirect losses suffered by many industrial plants which did not get their raw materials in time and were unable to meet export delivery dates.

Congestion continues to be heavy and is not expected to clear up before the end of the month, when the citrus export season draws to a close.

Gaddafi had Jewish mother

Mu'ammer al-Gaddafi, the Libyan dictator, had a Jewish mother and has relatives in Israel, according to a report in "Ma'ariv" yesterday.

Gaddafi's mother was a Jewish woman from Benghazi, in Libys, who converted to Islam after marrying a Libyan by the name of Lingl, in the 1940s. There is some disagreement among Gad-dat's maternal relatives and other Benghari Jews in Israel whether the woman married Lini willingly or was abducted by him and forced to marry him. (By Jewish law, Gaddafi is a Jew, although his mother coa-verted before ha was born and hence is a renegade Jewess According to. Islam, however, the head of state is a Moslem by virtue of his father's faith alone.) The claim that Gaddafi's mother was Jewish was earlier made by the Moroccan News Agency.

B-G talked while Goldmann faced the wall Goldmann: 'B-G asked me to head political opposition'

By ABRAHAM RABINOVICH

Jerusalem Post Reporter Dr. Nahum Goldmann stated yesterday that on the eve of the establishment of Israel, Egyptian diplomats in Washington and Europe had proposed a meeting between Zionist leaders and the then Premier of Egypt, Nokrashy Pasba.

Dr. Goldmann was speaking at a press conference in Jerusalem called to announce the publica-tion of a Hebrew translation of his autobiography. The veteran Zionist leader said that he had suggested to David Ben-Gunion in 1948 that the founding of the State be postponed several weeks in order to permit the meeting to take place. Ben-Gurion rejected the idea, explaining to Dr. Goldmann, who had been outside the country, that the immediate need to found the State was irresistible. Dr. Goldmann stressed that the proposed meeting, in which he and Moshe Sharett had been asked to participate, would not have led to a recognition of Israel by Egypt but was only an attempt to prevent war. It was to have been held in Rhodes or Cyprus. He said he understood Ben-Gurion's refusal to delay the creation of the State. Dr. Goldmann also revealed a conversation with the former premier in which Ben-Gurion asked Dr. Goldmann to sit facing the wall and not to say anything for 15 minutes while he, Ben-Gurion, addressed him. According to Dr. Goldmann, Ben-Gurion explained his reasons for not utilizing Dr. Goldmann's services in Arab affairs. "You are one of the architects," Ben-Gurion was quoted as saying, "of two great achievements of this generation - persuading America to accept partition and the achievements with Germany (the reparations agreement). Then why don't I bring you into consulta-tions on Israeli problems? T'll explain to you. You spoke with Chancellor 'Adenauer. If you were a: Christian German, you yourself could have been a chancelfor. You spoke with (U.S. Secretary of State) Acheson. If you were an American, you could have been a secretary of state. But with the Arabs, you need an iron hand, and that's me, not you." Dr. Goldmann recailed suggest### ing — presumably after he had turned around — that there might be a need for a velvet glove on the iron fiet, in which case he could serve as the giove. "The day could come," Ben-Gu-

said the Executive had pressed him for three months to address the Congress, but that he had been unwilling, aware that his "non-conformist" ideas could create a storm. He was finally prevailed upon, Dr. Goldmann said, but on his own express stipulation that if there were any opposition to his appearance he would withdraw. If Pincus had come to him "in a comradely way" and explained that there was opposition, Dr. Goldmann said, he would have stepped down on his own. (At the time, Mr. Pincus said he was cancelling the invitation to Dr. Goldmann because of remarks the latter had made regarding Jewish emigration from the Soviet Union. Dr. Goldmann said, however, that Mr. Pincus will address the World Jewish Congress, which Dr. Goldmann heads, in New York in June.

On other matters, Dr. Goldmann noted that he had urged Moshe Sharett in the early 1950s to recognize Communist China, even though "Dulles would be angry." His advice was rejected, he said

He said he had never wanted to be president of the World Zionist Organization but had accepted the post at the insistence of Ben-Gurion. He named Golda Meir as one of those opposed to his reelection to the post at the World Zionist Congress four years ago. If secret elections had been permitted at the time, he said, "I could have been elected despite the opposition of Mapai and Herut." He described the Zionist Organization as an administrative body "lacking any influence.

Dr. Goldmann said that "the yishur" was becoming increa-singly extreme in its views. Asked why he has ceased to ex-press himself in Israel on national affairs, he said, "there's no ear willing to listen to me. If the day comes when I see the need to intervene, I will."

The autobiography, entitled "Memories," was first published in 1969 and has appeared in German (the language in which it was written) and in English. The Hebrew edition is published by Weidenfeld and Nicolson Ltd. in Jerusalem. It contains about 20 pages of new material written especially for an Israeli readership, including an account of Dr. Goldmann's proposed trip to Cairo to meet the late President

The Government must examine, perhaps in concert with the country's builders, how to offset the inflationary pressure. "Every increase in export is inflationary to some extent — but that is not a reason for haiting foreign sales," an official explained to The Post yesterday.

Asked whether it does not up building space that could otherwise meet local demand, the official repeated that export means sacrificing resources to pay for the country's imports. In any case, out of 51,000 units built last year, less than 2,000 were disposed of in this way.

The Unit's director, Menahem Ben Yami, told The Jerusalem Post that the service will make use of a research boat, fitted with electronic sounding equipment, that will deteot the sardines. The boat will be guided by a plane, which, using an infra-red device to measure the water temperature, will within two hours prepare a daily temperature map of the Israel coastline. As the sardines go for the warmer water, Elderly landlords began a hunger strike in front of the Prime Minister's office yesterday, demanding changes in the Tenant Protection Law, which, they say, is unjust to them. They demand that tenants who did not pay key money should not be entitled to receive key money when vacating, and that a fair rental fee be imposed. The elderly landlords intend to continue the strike throughout the week. (Weiss)

The employees, who are not qua-lified technicians and are graded below them, demand automatic upgrading and professional literature allowances, on the grounds that these have been granted to the technical workers in defence establish-ments. They claim that the Technion had agreed to their work conditions being linked to those of defence employees, and was there-fore bound to honour the contract signed by the latter.

The director of the Technion's Manpower Division, A. Levy, said that the Defence Ministry had not signed the contract at all, had in fact refused to do so, and the Technion employees were thus labouring under a misapprehension. The Technion was ready to negotiate at once on all claims except automatic upgrading, which was "out of the question." It would inflate the number of workers in the upper grades he said. However, the Technion had proposed to extend aid to the workers to study for full technicians' grades. Its offer, though rejected, still stands, he added.

Mr. Almogi told the National Insurance Council he hopes that within a few months there will be a reform implemented in the children's allowance added to wages. The reform which he has suggested calls for combining the payment of children's allowance with the allowance paid to large families, and then taxing it. Thus, a greater al-lowance can be achieved, yet made progressive and scaled to need.

In regard to disability and dependents' benefits, there will be an increase of 11 per cent for those whose claims stem from 1966-71, while those with claims originating in the years 1954-55 to 1966-67 will receive a 12 per cent increase.
